Archaeology and Climate Change on Nova Scotia's North Shore

Learn how archaeologists are working with communities across the province to record places and stories from the past before they are lost to climate change.

SPEAKER

Andrea Richardson, Climate Change Adaptation Co-Ordinator - Archaeology

Andrea Richardson is the Climate Change Adaptation Coordinator for Nova Scotia's Archaeology Sector, funded by the Nova Scotia Climate Plan for Clean Growth. With over 25 years of archaeological experience in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Nova Scotia, she focuses on ceramics and the impacts of climate change on archaeological sites.

Join us for engaging talks on climate change and the exhibit, Our Climate Quest: Small Steps to Big Change, from Science North.

Starting February 19, sessions run every second Wednesday until June 11, 2025.
